

DRAG & FLAG EROTIC* POETRY SLAM WITH HOST MENDY KNOTT

Sunday March 21 * 7pm * Cover $5 * Cash Prizes! * Sign-up Deadline 6:30pm

Come on out for this erotic poetry slam unlike any other, because to compete, you must be in DRAG. What is “drag” to you? Good question. Show us your unique answer and let it involve costume and maybe some make-up! What is erotic? Again, you decide. HINT: the best metaphors often win! Never been to a poetry slam? (you slam virgin, you!) A slam is your performance of a poem (written by you) under three minutes, with plenty of drama if you want, but no props—other than your costume at this event. Judges from the audience decide on a score. Winners move to the second round, slam with a new poem and the judges choose the winners! First place—$50, 2nd—$25, 3rd—$15. The memories, hey, priceless. Must be 18 to enter, compete, or come to this show. Proceeds benefit the Goddess Festival. (Still nervous? See below.)

HOW TO WRITE AN EROTIC* POEM
AND PERFORM IT IN 3 MINUTES OR LESS

QUICKIES

Saturday, March 20 * 11am-1pm * Fee $3-5 * Instructor: Mendy Knott

This workshop is recommended if you want to slam in the Drag and Flag Poetry Slam on Sunday but are new to slams. We’ll be going over the rules, as well as writing poetry and practicing performance. However, it will be fun for everyone (performing or not) and highly entertaining. Don’t be shy; there’s no PI at this event. This is lunchtime, I know, but plan to eat before or after as we will be too busy writing and practicing to eat. Attendees should bring pen and paper. Men and women 18+ are welcome. Fee: $3

The Goddess Festival
FAYETTEVILLE, ARKANSAS 2010

One East Square Plaza, Fayetteville, Arkansas
www.goddessfestival.com